Green hats are needed for setup, teardown and everything in between.

New this year:

Auction: Rolling M Auctions will hold our first show auction at 6:30 p.m. Friday. Lot viewing 3-8 Thurs., 10-5 Fri. Lots are expected to be worth $100 to $3,000. The catalog is online at www.rollingmauctions.com

The Midwest Regional meeting of the Liberty Seated Collector's Club (LSCC) will be held in conjunction with the show at 10 a.m. Friday, Sept. 2. Stephen Petty will be presenting information on the club along with a presentation and show tell on the seated 20c pieces minted from 1875 to 1878.

ANA rep.: ANA Senior Administrative Manager, Kim Klieck will be attending the show and manning an ANA table to dispense information, answer questions, and generally participate.

If you're not an ANA member, now is the time to join. The mess that caused a lot of people to drop out has been cleaned up, and the ANA is going stronger and better than ever. Plus members get in free to ANA shows.

CSNS rep: Central States Numismatic Society Gov. David Heinrich of Cincinnati will be manning the club's table at the show.

CONA will be hosting a daylong Central States numismatic seminar in Westerville on May 5. Two speakers are already lined up.

Central States seminars are $20 for non-Central States members and $10 for members. Membership is just $10 a year. You can sign up at the Central States booth. These are just a great deal.

50/50 Jackpot

Joshua Ach wasn't present to collect the $291 jackpot. It rolls over. Next drawing at Aug. 17 meeting.

July presentation

CONA traces its history back to the founding of the Columbus Numismatic Society in 1906. Historian Ed Hilbert thinks the group may have existed in some form even earlier. The next year - 1907 - CONA and the Ohio State Numismatic Society hosted the first real ANA convention.

The Ohio State Numismatic Association petered out in the mid-1940s. The current group of that name was formed six or seven years ago.

Columbus Numismatic Society merged with Central Ohio International Numismatic Society. The combined CNS-COINS changed its name to the Central Ohio Numismatic Association.
